

The Caledonian Mercury.

Edinburgh, Tuesday, July 15, 1729.

From the Evening Post, July 8.

Petersburg, June 21.

THE two Fregats which sailed lately from Carelscoorn, have steered their Course towards the Sound, in their way to Spain, whither 'tis now assured they are bound.

Port St. Mary's, June 23. Yesterday the Prince and Princess d' Asturias, and the Infantes Don Philip and Don Carlos, took a Walk in the Hermitage La Piedad, where 'tis said a Camp will be formed of 12000 Men, to divert the Princes. We hear the Court designs to undertake an Expedition against Algiers; and even to bombard that Place, if they can get within Reach of it: But perhaps this is only a Feint; for 'tis well known they would rather be within Reach of another Place. We are also told, that the Marquis de Mari is to command the Fleet bound to New Spain. We hear nothing now of the Distribution of the Effects brought by the Galleons.

London, July 8. By private Letters from Brussels we learn, that the Rt. Hon. the Lord Petre was to be married on the eldest Daughter of the late Earl of Derwentwater.

From the London Evening Post, July 8.

Paris, July 8. The Imperial Ambassador Count Kinski is preparing to make his publick Entry into this City.

Hague, July 15. 'Tis advised from Copenhagen, that Prince Charles, Brother of the King of Denmark, died at Welnetoff the 8th of this Month.

Liverpool, July 4. We are advised from Virginia, that the Spaniards were fitting out 25 Privateers in Cuba and Hispaniola, to cruise about the Capes of Virginia, New England and the W. Indies, which has given them no small Alarm.

From the French Amsterdam Gazette, July 15.

Florence, June 25. The Day before Yesterday in the Morning, we had here a terrible Earthquake, which lasted 10 Minutes, during which Time the City was so shaken, that the Inhabitants fled from their Houses for Safety. This was followed by a terrible Storm and Thunder, which killed a Woman.

Hague, July 25. On the 11th Instant the Duke of Liria, Ambassador of Spain, gave a magnificent Entertainment, on account of the Birth of one of the Infantes of Spain, born the 11th of June 1726. The Emperor honoured this Feast with his Presence.

Rome, June 25. The Chevalier de St. George is gone hence for Albano, there to reside till the 29th Instant.

Wye's Letter verbatim, London, July 10.

Since our last arrived a Mail from France;

BY which we have Letters from Paris of the 16th Inst. advising, That the Courier Banniere was not yet arrived thither from Spain; but notwithstanding, they flattered themselves with hopes that Affairs would be accommodated to mutual Satisfaction. Mean while we cannot come to a Certainty of the Time fix'd for the K. of Spain to give his final Answer; altho' the Letters from Madrid which arrived above a Week ago, said it was then believed to be very near expired. According to Letters from Cadix of the 28th past, the Treasure and Effects brought by the Galleons were not then delivered out to the Proprietors, and the Spanish Squadron still continued there. But if it be owing, as some believe, to the Fear of a Visit from G. Britain, why should the K. of Spain then not prevent it by complying with the Terms for an amicable Accommodation, and cease his military Preparations?

We are told by the above Letters from Paris, that the Baron de Chateauneuf, Brigadier General of the French Army, was gone into the Service of his Catholic Majesty, who has made him a Major Gen.

They write from Dublin, That the Trustees of the Linen Manufacture of that Kingdom, which is greatly improved, have resolved to provide for each County 300 Wheels, to be distributed among the Poor, for spinning Linen Yarn.

Velox.

Yesterday the General Quarter-sessions resolved, That no Officer shall take of a Person arrested any more for the first Night than 10 d. for Lodging and clean Sheets, and 6 d. per Night afterwards, and 3 sh. per Day for good and wholesome Diet.

From on board the Enterprize, at Spithead, July 7.

The Lord Muscarry lies with his Topsails loose to sail for Goa in the W. Indies; the Phoenix and Scarborough are completing their 8 Months Provisions, to sail also for the W. Indies. This Week we had the Lord Baltimore, and with him several Persons of Quality, to see our Ship, which is reckoned the finest in the Fleet. We saluted his Lordship upon his going off, with 19 Guns; and Yesterday he sailed for Leghorn, upon no other Business, as 'tis said, than to carry a Friend of his to Genoa to see that Country.

One indeed may blush to make any mention of the Courier Banniers, if it be true, as is reported by some to come per Express, that the said Courier, after so long and tedious Absence, was returned to Paris with News of the K. of Spain's insisting upon a longer Pronogation of the Time for giving his final Answer. But we ought to suspend our Belief of this till there is better Authority, tho' the S. S. Stock is false, and that of E. India 2 and 1 half per Cent. Jews, Stockjobbers, &c. take all Opportunities, according to their pernicious Practice, of spreading false Accounts and Misrepresentations of publick Affairs.

The Grand Jury at the Old Baily, among many other Bills, found one of Indictment brought by Nathaniel Blackerby and Francis Rayton, Esqs. against Mr. Roulard a Justice of the Peace, of having acquitted 12 Sodomites which were brought before them; for which the said Mr. Roulard is to be tried this Session: And 'tis expected they will find a Bill against Bambridge.

From the St. James's Evening-Post, July 10.

Hague, July 13. There are two Things that at present distort the Fibres of our Politicians Brains; to wit, the long Delay of the K. of Spain's final Answer to the last Proposals of the Allies of Hanover, and the Effect of the K. of G. Britain's Visit to his German Dominions, and whether it will end in restoring a good Harmony between the Courts of Hanover and Berlin; of which we have less Prospect every Day than other: For, according to our last Advices from the Court of his Britannick Majesty, strict Orders were given for seizing all the Prussian Officers and Soldiers that should be found in the Territories of Hanover, by way of Reprisal for the forced and clandestine Inrolment of Soldiers by the Prussian Officers there, and the Disregard of the Complaints made on that Account at the Court of Berlin: A Step that, however just and reasonable in it self, must of necessity widen the Breach between the two Courts; it being more than probable that the K. of Prussia will highly resent this Procedure; in which case the Territories of those two Princes seem to lie too close to each other. But be that as it will, the K. of G. Britain has resolved to send his Privy-Counsellor Munchhausen to the Court of Berlin, to demand Satisfaction for the irregular inlisting of his Hanoverian Subjects among the Troops of his Prussian Majesty; of whose Success we may perhaps give some Account in its proper Time.

His Imperial Majesty's Rescript touching Mecklemburg, is likely to prove of greater Consequence than most People imagine, because the Princees to whom it is directed refuse to comply, or to draw their Forces out of that Dutchy till they are paid every Penny of their Arrears, which amount to almost a Million of Crowns. Some say the Emperor has Thoughts of directing a new Commission to the K. of Prussia, to dislodge the Troops of Hanover and Wolfenbuttle from Mecklemburg. But this, at first Sight, appears very unlikely.

'Tis reported, that the English and Dutch Squadrons have Orders to wait the K. of Spain's final Answer till the Close of the current Week (should not our Author have said Month) and no longer; and that if it does not come by that time, they will set sail first fair Wind. All our Fear is, the Season of the Year will be too far spent for their undertaking any Enterprise of Importance.

For what concerns the Investiture of the Infant Don Carlos in the Dutchie's of Tuscany, Parma and Placentia; if our private Letters from Vienna may be credited, the Emperor will never consent to the King of Spain's sending any Forces to Italy, to secure that Succession to the Prince above named. And then how will it appear that his Imperial Majesty is so very pacifick as some would persuade us?

The Prince of Nassau-Friesland, Stadholder of Gelderland, &c. being 18 Years of Age about the Middle of September, will soon after be solemnly install'd Stadholder of the Province of Groningen. Mean while we hear nothing now of that young Prince's Marriage.

War-

Warsaw, June 28. The King of Poland our Sovereign continues in perfect Health, and confers daily with the Senators to find out an Expedient to quiet the Minds of his Protestant Subjects.

From the London Evening-Post, July 10.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, July 9.

I am actually ashamed to own, how earnestly and stedfastly all Peoples Eyes are turn'd towards the Gate whereat our now famous Courier Bannieres is to enter, with the K. of Spain's categorical Answer. Nor dare I, as many do, venture a Wager on the Satisfactoriness thereof; since 'tis confidently said, that the Spanish Plenipotentiaries have given in to our Court a Memorial, wherein they intreat his Majesty to employ his good Offices towards preventing the Execution of a Motion in the British Parliament, That Gibraltar and Portmahon, with the whole Island of Minorca, be declared wholly and immediately depending on England; since his Catholick Majesty neither can nor will ever consent that they be disunembred from the Castilian Crown; 'tis said this has been communicate to the British Ministers. Advices from Spain say, the D. de Bournonville will set out some time this Month for Soissons, loaded, some say, with new Instructions, and others think with new Difficulties. As the King reviewed lately the Body Guards and Horse Grenadiers, Cardinal Fleury said to his Majesty, "What Pity is it, Sir, that so many brave Fellows should want an Opportunity of exercising their Brav'ry.

Paris, July 16. The Queen is now entred the 8th Month of her Pregnancy, and continues in perfect Health.

Last Week an Express went through here, dispatched by the Court of Spain to that of Vienna: Either he could not, or else he would not say one Word of Peace; only said their Majesties were so much delighted at Port St. Mary's, that they design to spend the Autumn there as well as the Summer, and that the Queen will lie in there.
